

Cognos Performance Management Training

Training designed to meet your needs!

Many factors influence your company's performance. But few areas under your management are more important than your organization's decision-making ability. Getting answers and acting on them means integrating reporting and analysis, planning, and measuring and monitoring—across your organization. This integrated approach is the Cognos performance management system. The following Performance Management courses will help you quickly master the skills needed to productively work with your Cognos software while minimizing training time.
