Is a quickstart right for me?

Cognos offers an impressive suite of CPM tools for the office of finance. These tools are designed to be "owned" by finance and offer a low cost of ownership and minimal support from IT.

The JCB quickstart program maybe right for you if:

- You are looking to develop internal competency with the tool from the start
- Your timelines are flexible or out far enough to provide your team with time to train and develop your solution
- Your budget is tight and you want to maximize the value of your services dollars

On the other hand, a turnkey JCB solution may be a better option if:

- You have tight timelines to deliver a solution
- You have a complex solution to roll out
- You want to reduce your project risk

What is included in the quickstart?

Training

Certified Cognos Training in ANY Cognos training facility. Training for one administrator or developer is included in the package at a 20% discount. Additional attendees can be added at the same discount.

Architecture & Installation

Architecture design recommendations based on the size and requirements of your deployment. Installation, Configuration of your selected Cognos tool.

Design & Development Services

The final phase of the quickstart includes four weeks of design and or build services from JCB Partners experienced consulting services group. Whether you use this time for intensive design of a complex solution or toward mentoring on the development of an initial application, you are leveraging the one of the most experienced, acclaimed partners in delivering Cognos solutions.

Cost

JCB offers this service for a flat fee of $40,000. That's over a 20% discount!
